Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3, 5, 7, 13-15, 17, 23-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over EP 307847 (abstract), US 4996050 (col. 2-3), or WO 8203772 in view of EP 619,370 (abstract), US 5589451 (col. 3-4), US 5814605 (abstract), WO 97/13857 (abstract), or WO 98/16243 (abstract).

EP 307847 (abstract), US 4996050 (col. 2-3), and WO 8203772 teach that plasminogen is known in the art to be used in pharmaceutical formulations.

EP 619,370 (abstract), US 5589451 (col. 3-4), US 5814605 (abstract), WO 97/13857 (abstract), and WO 98/16243 (abstract) teach that KFG is known in the art to be used in pharmaceutical formulations.

It is well known that it is prima facie obvious to combine two or more ingredients each of which is taught by the prior art to be useful for the same purpose in order to form a third composition which is useful for the same purpose. The idea for combining them flows logically from their having been used individually in the prior art. In re Sussman, 1943 C.D. 518; In re Pinten, 459 F.2d 1053, 173 USPQ 801 (CCPA 1972); In re Susi, 58 CCPA 1074, 1079-80; 440 F.2d 442, 445; 169 USPQ 423, 426 (1971); In re Crockett, 47 CCPA 1018, 1020-21; 279 F.2d 274, 276-277; 126 USPQ 186, 188 (1960).

The references further teach that carriers are used in the formulations as well. The use of buffers, saline solutions, thickeners, emulsions, and ointments are known in the art and are taught by the references.
